Tells Of Assault, Abduction

Now In Hospital At Albuquerque

ALBUQUERQUE, N.M. (AP) — An Illinois deputy sheriff was in an Albuquerque hospital today after telling officers he had been assaulted and abducted by four men Tuesday near Tuscola, Ill.

The deputy was identified as Robert D. Sumption of Douglas County, Ill., by Sheriff Joe Wilson of Albuquerque.

Wilson said Sumption told officers he remembered only a few details of the Tuesday incident and then found himself on an Albuquerque city bus Wednesday night. He telephoned the sheriff's office.

Officers took him to Presbyterian Hospital where a spokesman said Sumption was in good condition and held only for observation.

Sheriff Wilson said the Illinois deputy told of stopping a car at Villa Grove near Tuscola. He said that before he could get out of his car two of the four men in the other car approached him and one of them struck him on the head with a pistol.

Sumption said the only other things he could remember was someone saying, "For God's sake don't shoot him," Wilson reported.

The deputy said he also remembers someone saying they would drop him in Albuquerque on the way to El Paso, Tex.

Then he found himself on the Albuquerque bus and telephoned the sheriff's office from a service station.

Sheriff Wilson said Douglas County, Ill., authorities had been notified and the investigation was continuing.

Sumption, who is seeking the Republican nomination for sheriff of Douglas County, had been sought since Tuesday after his bullet-damaged and blood-stained squad car was found on a rural road about nine miles from Tuscola in central Illinois.

The search for Sumption widened Wednesday as FBI agents were called in and skin divers were requested to aid in searching rivers, streams and ponds in Douglas County.

Rules Catholic May Use Bible Of Protestants

By BRIAN SULLIVAN
BOSTON (AP) — Richard Cardinal Cushing, archbishop of Boston, has given official Roman Catholic approval to a Protestant version of the Bible.

The move, described by a priest as a "breakthrough for the ecumenical movement," means Roman Catholics everywhere can use the Revised Standard Version of the Oxford annotated Bible.

The approval covers "common usage," such as home Bible reading and study groups, but does not extend to liturgical use.

Cardinal Cushing gave the version his approval, known as an "imprimatur," late last month. The action was announced Wednesday.

An imprimatur is permission from an ecclesiastical authority that a book may be safely read by Roman Catholics without damage to faith or morals.

The revised Oxford version was authorized by the National Council of Churches of the U.S.A. in 1951 and first published by Oxford Press in 1962 for Protestant use.

It derives from the classic King James version of 1611.

The Oxford version has been used for the past three years in Bible courses at Holy Cross College in Worcester, Mass., in an experiment.

The Rev. W. Van Etting Casey, a faculty member at the Jesuit institution, said the experiment proved successful and helped speed the approval, which he described as an ecumenical breakthrough.

BOY DROWNS
PEORIA, Ill. (AP) — A 4-year-old boy drowned in the Illinois River Wednesday, but a passerby rescued a younger brother from the water.

The drowning victim was Timothy Zipper. His brother, Stephen, 3, was pulled from the river by Kenneth Wheeler.

The children had visited the river site with their father, Louis, and had strayed away from him.

The children had been in a bullet-damaged and blood-stained squad car was found on a rural road about nine miles from Tuscola in central Illinois.

PRINCE NAKACHIDSE DIES
MUNICH, Germany (AP) — Prince Nikolaus Nakachidse, 67, a leader of anti-Soviet exiles, was found dead in his home Wednesday. The Georgian nationalist was general secretary of the Anti-Bolshevik Bloc of Nations, a group of emigres from all parts of the Soviet Union. The prince reportedly had suffered from a heart condition.

Farm Workers Included

Seek Minimum Wage For Small Firms' Employees

By JOHN BECKLER
WASHINGTON (AP) — Sponsors of minimum wage legislation ask the House today to reverse a vote removing 1.6 million small firm employees from the bill's proposed coverage.

The vote Wednesday marred a precedent shattering triumph for the measure's supporters, who succeeded in retaining a provision extending minimum wage coverage for the first time to upwards of 400,000 workers.

The bill's backers face another struggle today over an amendment that would delay until 1970 an increase in the minimum wage to $1.60 an hour.

The wage now is $1.25 and the bill would boost it to $1.40 next February and to $1.60 in 1968.

The amendment eliminating coverage of 1.6 million employees of small business and industrial firms was adopted by a nonrecord vote of 120 to 109.

Under House rules it can be put to a roll call vote before final action on the bill.

Rep. John H. Dent, D-Pa., the bill's manager, said he will request such a roll call. He predicted the House would undo Wednesday's action.

Dent is counting on an admitted error in the amendment to help overturn the vote.

The amendment's author, Rep. John B. Anderson, R-Ill., said he intended to block extension of the minimum wage law to workers in 995,000 retail and service establishments doing less than an annual gross business of $500,000. The bill would have dropped the present $1 million limit to $500,000 next year and to $250,000 in 1969.

In drafting the measure, however, Anderson also knocked out 650,000 employees of other businesses, including mining, manufacturing, processing, communications, finance and insurance, that do less than $1 million a year gross business.

The House voted 157 to 149 to reject an amendment by Rep. David T. Martin, R-Neb., to delete the farm provision. The bill would cover farms that employ 500 man-days of labor in any quarter.

The farm worker minimum would start at $1 an hour next Feb. 1, go to $1.15 in 1968 and to $1.30 in 1969. Other newly covered workers would get two additional 15-cent raises, reaching $1.60 in 1971.

ADM. FERRIS DIES
WASHINGTON (AP) — Rear Adm. Floyd F. Ferris Ret., 67, who helped evacuate Americans from Spain during the 1937 civil war in that country, died Tuesday.

Ferris was the Legion of Merit for his service as a transport commander in the Pacific during World War II. Ferris, who retired in 1956, was born in New York.

FORESTRY EXPERT DIES
EAST LANSING, Mich. (AP) — Prof. Terrill Stevens, 63, chairman of the Michigan State University Forestry Department for 15 years, died Tuesday, apparently of a heart attack. Stevens, who joined the MSU staff in 1941, was born in Los Angeles.

6 Firemen Hurt In Spectacular Fire In Chicago

CHICAGO (AP) — Six firemen were hospitalized Wednesday night by injuries suffered as they fought a spectacular blaze which destroyed an abandoned grain elevator on the bank of the Chicago River.

Several others received minor injuries as three walls of the 85-year-old structure collapsed inwards.

Flames and smoke, feeding on six tinder-dry wooden silos inside the cement walled elevator, belched from the roof of the 100 foot tall building in a 1,000-foot high fiery column seen miles away.

More than half of the city's fire fighting equipment and 400 firemen converged on the scene and put a wall of water between the building and nearby homes and businesses. Seven fireboats shot streams of water into the fire from the river.

At one point firemen said water from five snorkel units was not helping because it turned to steam in the intense heat.

The wave of heat and flaming debris caused several smaller fires including one in a truck company warehouse, set back 100 feet from the opposite bank of the 300-foot wide river.

The roof of the seven-story Armour Soap Co. works north-east of the elevator was set ablaze. But fireboats extinguished the flames.

Attendants with fire extinguishers were sent to the top of the stands of Comiskey Park to make sure a rain of smoldering debris did not ignite. More than 14,000 fans were in the park, more than a mile west of the fire, watching the White Sox play the Baltimore Orioles.

Turncoat Leaves Red China With Wife, Children

HONG KONG (AP) — Korean War turncoat Clarence Adams arrived in Hong Kong today, leaving only two of 21 self-exiled former American prisoners of war in Communist China.

Adams, from Memphis, Tenn., crossed the Lowu border bridge 23 miles north of the city with his Chinese wife and their children, Louis, 3, and Della, 4.

Nicholas Platt, a U.S. consulate official met them at the border and took them to an undisclosed hotel.

The consulate had been expecting Adams since the Chinese notified the Hong Kong Red Cross he would cross the border May 9. But Adams told newsmen he had not planned to leave China until this week.

"I think maybe there was a mistake in the date," he said.

The turncoats still in China are Howard Adams, no relation to Clarence, of Corsicana, Tex., and James Veneris of Hawthorne, Calif. One of the former war prisoners who chose to remain with their captors died in China, two left via Europe and 15 others preceded Adams across the Hong Kong border.

The last was Morris Wills of Fort Ann, N.Y., who crossed last Oct. 19.

MOTHER OF FOUR JAILED ON CHARGE OF MURDER ATTEMPT

CHICAGO (AP) — A mother charged with bringing arsenic laden milkshakes to her hospitalized husband remained in jail today.

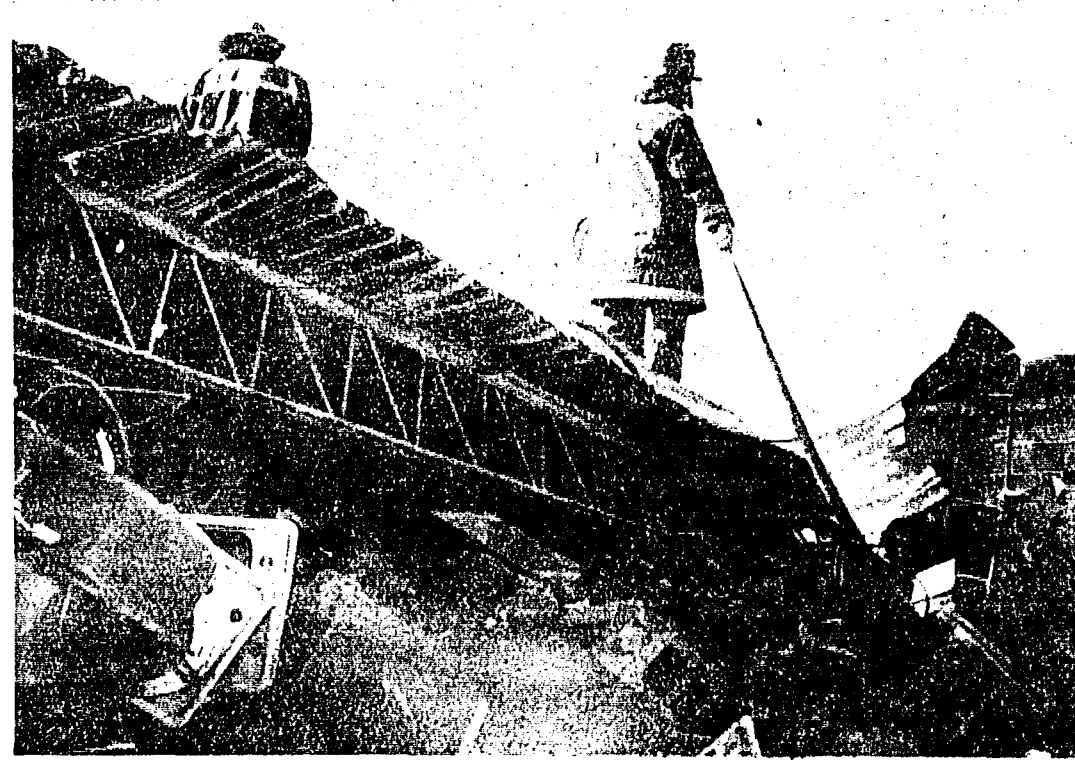

Mrs. Mary Koshol, 38, the mother of four, was held in lieu of $25,000 bond on charges of attempted murder and aggravated battery.

Her husband, Joseph, 39, remained in Veterans Research Hospital where he has been a patient since March.

His wife was arrested Tuesday when large amounts of arsenic were found in a milkshake she brought to the hospital.

Poison was suspected, doctors told police, because laboratory tests showed 20 times the amount of arsenic usually tolerated by the body in a sample of Koshol's milk.

The Koshols' reported domestic quarrels several times in the last nine years, police said.

EIGHT INJURED — FRANKFORT, Ill. — Firemen use hoses to pour water on burning debris after an explosion ripped through the S and S Sink Company here Wednesday. More Box Car Building Aim Of New Law

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson signed today a bill aimed to encourage building of more railroad box cars, and used the occasion to talk about the effects of the federal tax collection speedup and the possibility of an anti-inflation tax increase.

He seemed to suggest his thinking runs against a tax raise right now.

Johnson said the government expects to take an extra $13 billion out of the economy this year by means of more nearly current collection of income taxes and increased savings bond sales.

Then he asked, in effect, if it will be necessary to seek an anti-inflation tax boost as well.

"Maybe we should take more out," Johnson commented. "I wish I knew."

But the thrust of his informal remarks added up to another bit of evidence the administration is unlikely to seek higher taxes in the immediate future.

"We are concerned that we don't go too far too fast," he said at one point.

The measure, the President signed asks the Interstate Commerce Commission—which fixed rates for use of railroad freight cars — to put these high enough to encourage construction and ownership of all types of new railroad cars.

For years Western farmers, ranchers, industries and congressmen have protested that Eastern carriers have monopolized the diminishing number of freight cars because of the low rates fixed by the ICC.

JOHNSONS ATTEND PARTY FOR MANN

WASHINGTON (AP) — President and Mrs. Johnson attended a private farewell party Wednesday night for Thomas C. Mann, who is stepping down as undersecretary of state for economic affairs.

Other guests at the party, included Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey, Secretary of State Dean Rusk and Cabinet members. The Johnsons spent 40 minutes at the affair.

There is recent evidence of Pentagon support for thinning out U.S. units in Europe. Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara said in a speech last week "the American people are not going to shirk their obligations in any part of the world, but they clearly cannot be expected to bear a disproportionate share of the common burden indefinitely."

44 Solons Would Cut U.S. Troops In NATO

By JACK BELL
WASHINGTON (AP) — There is strong sentiment in the Senate for reducing U.S. troop commitments to North Atlantic Treaty Organization nations, an Associated Press survey disclosed today.

Forty-four senators said they favored eventual withdrawal of a substantial portion of the six U.S. divisions of 225,000 American fighting men massed along the Iron Curtain.

But of this group, only 15 said they would cut U.S. forces to a token level of one division at this time as suggested recently by Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield.

The question asked senators was: "Do you believe Western Europe should take over its own primary defenses with U.S. ground troops reduced to a token level? Why?"

Mansfield said in an interview May 16 that Western Europe ought to be taking over its own defenses. He added that a single division would serve as well as six as a token of the United States presence on the continent and as a guarantee of American response to any Communist attack on the West.

Fifteen senators disagreed with Mansfield's position, most of them saying the United States must stand by its treaty commitments to NATO in spite of France's forthcoming withdrawal of troops from the alliance.

Sixteen senators declined to take a public position on the issue, but several of them said privately they favored gradual withdrawal of U.S. troops. Twenty-five senators were not reached by the survey.

Baptists' New Head Distressed Over Race Issue

By CHARLES C. CAIN
DETROIT (AP) — Youthful looking Dr. H. Franklin Paschall, new president of the Southern Baptist Convention, has definite ideas about the future of religion in this country.

He outlined many of them at a news conference Wednesday after his election as head of the nation's largest Protestant denomination.

The 44-year-old Paschall fled from the Negro's part in the Southern Baptist church to Paschall's views on separation of church and state.

Nearly half of the questions dealt with the racial issue. The new convention head commented, "I have been distressed over the racial problem, distressed on both sides in the struggle."

He said the federal government had provided laws governing integration and equality and added:

"We have the laws now and if Christian leaders can instill the proper attitude in people, we will have significant progress."

Dr. Paschall discussed the ecumenical movement briefly. An hour earlier, two Southern Baptist Convention delegates (messengers) had disclosed the Baptist church was considering holding interfaith talks with Roman Catholics.

"I don't think it is a good idea for Baptists to become part of an ecumenical movement, organically or spiritually," he said.

S. Viets Give Aid In Hue

On War Front Action Slows

HUE, Viet Nam (AP) — A battalion of South Vietnamese army troops moved into Hue tonight to protect the U.S. consulate and three other American buildings in the city.

There had been no government troops in Hue, where anti-American demonstrators attacked the U.S. Information Service office earlier in the day, set fire to the building and burned books, shelves and tables. The building was closed and no Americans were injured.

The battalion of 500 government troops carried full battle gear.

After the student attack on the U.S.I.S. building, rumors spread that the students would march on the consulate tonight or Friday.

On the war front, ground action was reported at a near standstill and U.S. B52 bombers led the offensive with attacks on four Viet Cong areas. The war scene was dominated by the report of casualties last week which said the number of allied battle dead more than doubled and the number of U.S. casualties—146 killed and 820 wounded—was the highest for any week of the war. The previous casualty high—240 killed and 470 wounded—came last November during the fighting in the Ia Drang Valley.

A military spokesman said the high toll was the result of the numerous battalion size actions during the week rather than any one major engagement.

"There were more battalions in the field than ever before," he said.

The allied dead totaled 386 last week, compared with 161 the week before. Spokesmen reported 1,235 Communists killed, a rise of 25 per cent over the 998 the week before.

Anti-Americanism has become increasingly strident since Ky's troops crushed the Da Nang revolt Monday. The Buddhists apparently had hoped a widespread show of anti-Ky sentiment might swing the Johnson administration away from the ruling junta. Instead, U.S. officials expressed relief that Da Nang uprising had collapsed without spilling more blood and urged both sides to get on with the war against the Communists and an orderly transfer to civilian rule.

Living Costs And Viet Cut LBJ's Popularity

By RAYMOND J. CROWLEY
WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson is keenly aware that the high cost of living and the Viet Nam war are cutting into his administration's popularity as measured by public opinion polls.

In reaction to the polls and other signs, the administration has made several moves to try to show that the rise in living costs has been much lower than in other industrialized nations and that there are grounds for hope that civil strife in South Viet Nam can be composed and a degree of unity attained.

After his latest survey this week, pollster Louis Harris said that the American public's rating of the way Johnson does his job has fallen to the lowest point of his 2½ years in the White House.

Only 55 per cent now think he is doing an excellent or good job, Harris reported. This is a decline of 7 percentage points from two months ago and 12 points from January.

But Johnson's rating in this poll is still above the low points of the Eisenhower and Kennedy administrations.

And a Gallup Poll released Wednesday night reported that a test for the presidency between Johnson and Republican Richard M. Nixon would be closer now than eight months ago.

The poll said 54 per cent of those queried replied they would like to see Johnson win if election was held today, while 46 per cent preferred Nixon.

36 per cent picked Nixon and 10 per cent were undecided. Last September, a similar poll listed Johnson with 61 per cent, Nixon with 35 per cent and had 4 per cent undecided. No other candidates were listed in these polls.

Another recent Gallup Poll posed the question: Should the United States withdraw its troops if the South Vietnamese begin fighting among themselves in a big way? The poll showed 54 per cent of Americans would favor withdrawal in that event, and only 28 per cent favored continuing to help South Viet Nam.

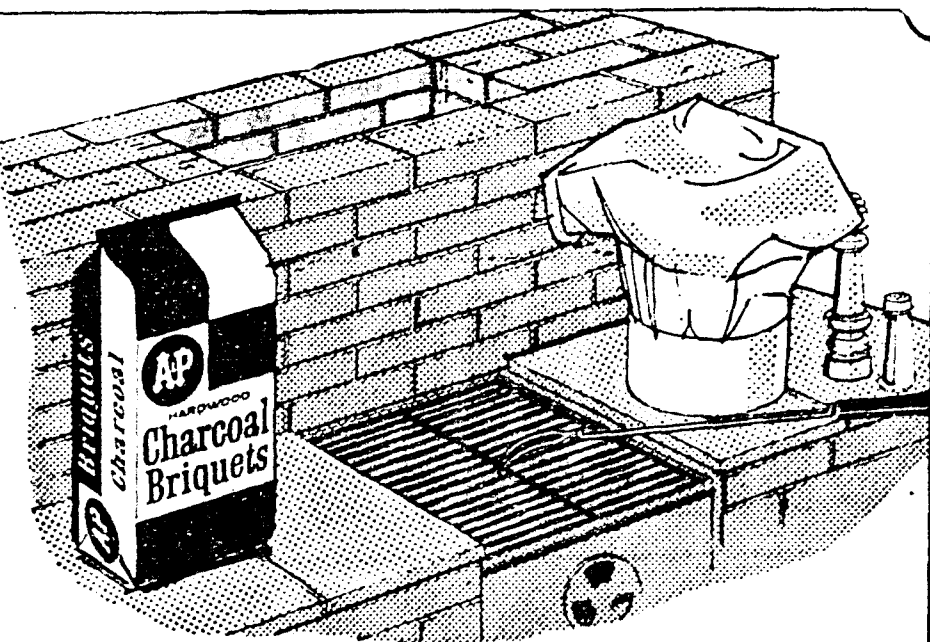

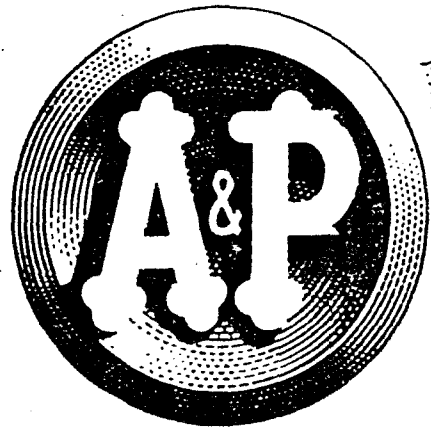

At a news conference last Saturday, the President was asked: "How you regard some of the very recent polls that show considerable public dissatisfaction over both Viet Nam and the economic situation as to inflation?"

He replied that he believes there is somewhat more concern about higher prices now than you would have in a normal period because we are coming close to reaching our objective of full employment."

But he produced a chart to show that United States price increases have averaged less than 1½ per cent a year since 1960, whereas in Germany the growth rate is 3 per cent, in the United Kingdom and France 3½ to 4 per cent and in Japan 6½ per cent.

As for dissatisfaction with the situation in Viet Nam, he said that he himself is "leading the parade" of those who want to get out.

He said that he believes there is somewhat more concern about higher prices now than you would have in a normal period because we are coming close to reaching our objective of full employment."

outdoor chefs are very fussy!

Ever since the outdoor cooking fad began, we've been catering to the special needs of outdoor chefs.

Over the years, we've satisfied scores of thousands.

Many, many find just the steak, chops or chicken they want in our self-service meat departments.

Others have specific needs...

the steak must be 2 1/2" thick, the chops double thick and so forth.

That's no problem.

If you don't see it...just ask. We'll be happy to help you.

One other reason we're so popular with "backyard barbecuers"...

the quality of our "Super-Right" Meats.

Quality so high, some meat graded U.S. Choice matter of fact

Juggling is an ancient art. Evidence of this is found in ancient sculpture, coins and manuscripts. One early manuscript, which showed a bear on its hind legs juggling three knives, was treated with skepticism. Yet, in modern Russian circuses, which often feature juggling feats, a bear has been trained to juggle with its hind legs a flaming torch at a speed few humans could equal.

Rains Hold Up Corn Planting In Jersey Area

JERSEYVILLE — Torrential rains that struck the Jerseyville and Kane vicinity about 8 p.m. Monday ended hopes of farmers for planting any corn before the first week in June. Ideal weather will have to exist from now until the early June period farmers here declared, before the corn planters can start clicking.

In one district of the Kane locality nearly two inches fell in a little more than an hour. Northwest of Jerseyville an inch and one half of water fell in the period from 7:45 p.m. until 8:45 p.m. over an area southeast from Eldred into northern Jersey county.

One district southwest of Jerseyville reported only a light sprinkle. Heavy electrical discharges accompanied the thunderstorms as they moved over the area. Rain from one of the storms hit late Monday afternoon from north Alton and Godfrey area as far north as Delhi. Jerseyville had no precipitation and also escaped with nothing more than a light sprinkle during Monday afternoon from two storms that swept northeasterly across the Nutwood-Fieldon locality.

IT WALKS—Not for the surface of the moon but right here on earth, this "walking truck" is being developed to transport loads over rugged terrain impassable to wheeled or tracked vehicles. Six-foot legs move it at speeds up to 5 m.p.h. A research model, 10-foot-tall by 10-foot-long, is being built by the General Electric Research and Development Center at Schenectady, N.Y., for the Defense Department, which sees potential applications as a cargo and troop carrier, portable mount for artillery and ship-to-shore shuttle.

Miss Poppy Is Legion Post Meeting Guest

The Jacksonville American Legion Post 279 met at the Legion Home May 17. Commander Frank Slagle was in charge. Colors were posted by sergeant at arms Russell Armstrong and invocation given by chaplain Glenn E. Skinner. The sergeant-at-arms escorted the special guest, Miss Debbie Brennan, "Miss Poppy of 1966" to the front of the room. Miss Poppy requested all the members of the Post to give one hour of their time on Poppy Day, May 27 and 28th to help sell p o p p i e s, and remarked "aren't you glad you can help sell Poppies, rather than have to make them?"

Senior Vice Commander Joe Palsgrove reported on membership. Commander Slagle reported in the absence of junior vice commander Mueller that the next stag will be a prime rib of beef stag on Thursday, May 26. Applications for membership were read from Carl Robert Morris, a new member and Cecil Cline, reinstatement. Both were accepted.

ed that Ed Morrison was a patient at Passavant hospital.

The Post voted a donation of $25.00 to the "Sandy Beach" project.

Memorial Plans

The Legion is in charge of putting up flags on veterans' graves in Diamond Grove cemetery Sunday, May 29th starting at 1 p.m. Volunteers are needed on this project. Commander Slagle stated that anyone who has someone of their family, who was a veteran buried in Diamond Grove cemetery, if they would contact the Legion or go to the Section House they may get a flag for the grave if it is missed.

On Saturday, May 28th, crosses will be placed on the lawn in front of the Legion Home.

On May 30th the Legion will participate in the Memorial Day Parade. They will also furnish the color guard for the Catholic Mass at Calvary cemetery.

Commander Slagle asked everyone who could to help sell p o p p i e s on Poppy Day and urged all citizens to buy one to show they really care, more so than ever this year, when so many of the boys are serving in Viet Nam.

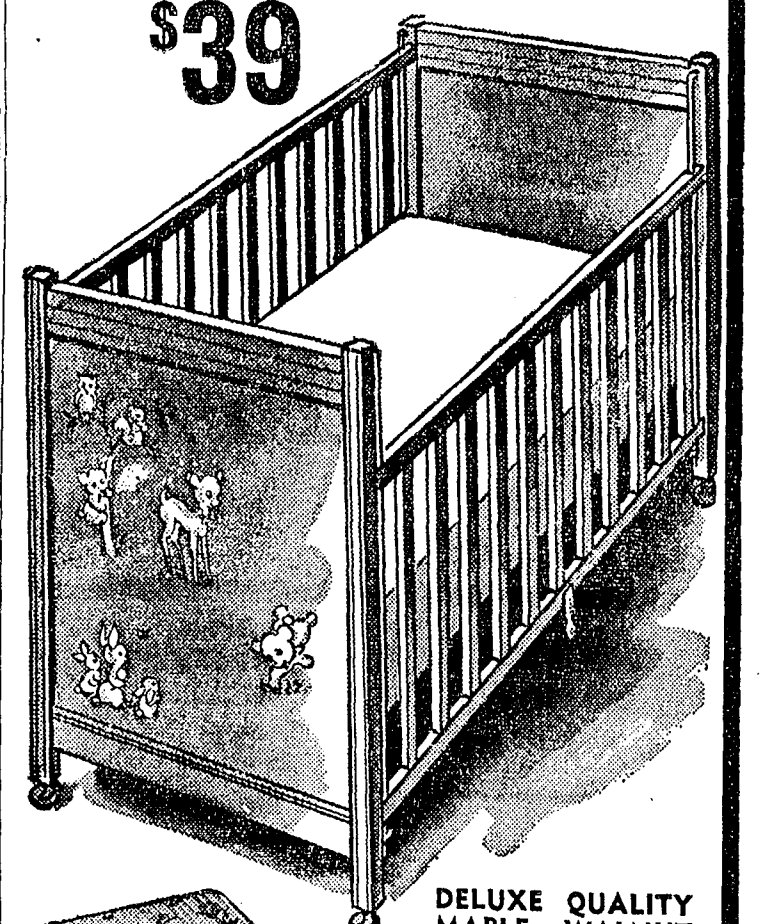

The next meeting will be at 8 p.m. Tuesday, June 7.

Forty-one states reported some moonshine activity in 1963.

BUILDING BOLDER IN ILLINOIS

WITH POWER FROM THE ELECTRIC COOPERATIVES

Vast growing room has been supplied to the dynamic developers, builders and industrialists of Illinois through abundant supplies of dependable low-cost electric power to the rural areas. Expansion, on a scale impossible a few years ago, is now a reality for builders of homes, business and industry.

Over 46,901 miles of distribution line bring every benefit of electric power from the Electric Cooperatives to the most remote areas. Community improvements in all parts of Illinois are supported by $1,665,000 in annual taxes paid by the Illinois Electric Cooperatives. A $7,000,000 annual payroll and $100,000,000 invested in plants and equipment stimulate local business and building.

Today, rural Illinois is becoming boldly alive with new business, new buildings, new plants and home developments, where none were possible before.

Today, the Illinois Electric Cooperatives are adding new equipment and techniques, new services and programs to be ready for tomorrow's "bolder building" in Illinois.

Things are much brighter in rural Illinois with power from the Electric Cooperatives.

OUR BOARDING HOUSE With MAJOR HOOPLE

SWEET AND SAFE—It's the custom in West Berlin for children starting school to receive cones of candy on the first day, perhaps to sweeten the long journey ahead. Also customary, and for a very practical reason, are bright yellow caps so that motorists can easily spot the young fry.

GREENE WOMAN'S PARENTS HURT IN ACCIDENT

ROODHOUSE — Mrs. Earl (Virginia) Edwards has received word from her son, Larry Edwards, and wife, both teachers in the Cropsey schools, telling of the hospitalization of her parents following a two-car accident, Saturday night. The accident occurred twenty-five miles from the home of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Sanders, Downer's Grove, near Hinsdale. The couple sustained some broken bones and other injuries. Virginia Edwards lost her husband in a truck accident some years ago. The Boosters Class of the Methodist Church will hold the regular monthly carry-in supper at 6:30 p.m., Thursday.

The committee in charge is comprised of Mr. and Mrs. Mason F. Campbell, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Whitney, Mr. and Mrs. George Marshall and Mrs. Verne B. Taylor.

Mrs. Taylor will also be in charge of the devotions for the evening. The Past Noble Grand Club entertained the White Hall and Carrollton clubs with a dinner held Friday in the hall. A 6:30 chicken dinner was served with Ruth Shaw, Hazel Sage and Anna Roe on the kitchen committee.

The dining-room committee was made up of the following members: Blanche Smock and Mollie Todd, who also decorated the tables for the occasion.

Ruth Rhodes and Helen Benner were in charge of the social hour. Bunco was played with guest prizes going to Cecile Baker and Eunice Johnson of Carrollton; Ella Smith and Leona Coonrod of White Hall; and Jean Wolfe, Helen Benner, Lena Wyatt and Anna Roe, Roodhouse.

Visits Relatives
Mr. and Mrs. Dewey Bryant spent Thursday in Springfield with her sister and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Russell Beatty.

FORBADE DRINKING
When the Danes conquered England in the 7th century, they prohibited the English from drinking alcoholic beverages except when in the company of Danish people.

SOCIAL MAY 19 FOR PATTERSON RNA

PATTERSON — Twenty-five officers and members were present Thursday evening May 19 when the Royal Neighbor Camp met.

Mrs. Minnie Steelman presented the flag at the opening of the camp and routine business followed.

A letter was read from Mrs. Bertha Nicholson, a member who recently moved to Bloomington. A card was signed by all present to be sent to her. A card was also signed to be sent to Mrs. Hazel Cox, a recent hospital patient.

After the recorder's and receiver's financial reports were read the Camp closed and the penny collection was taken. The members then adjourned to the tables, which were attractively decorated with artificial spring flowers.

Mrs. Laura Dawdy and Mrs. Mildred Dawdy served refreshments of cake, with whipped cream, iced tea, coffee and snacks, after which bingo was enjoyed. Mrs. Hazel Stromatt was winner of the door prize, to be given by Juanita Rollins. Several members received gifts from their secret pals.

Attending the meeting were, Marilyn Ford, Nona Owdom, Elizabeth Ballard, Wilmoth Cade, Johanna Eschbach, Donna Goodwin, Lida Dawdy, Bea Taylor, Mary Nagle, Leona Dawdy, Iva Prindle, Meleta Stewart, Margaret Hicks, Charlice Dawdy.

Phyllis Dawdy, Mildred VanMeter, Cora Augur, Mary Lou Burton, Mildred Wilkinson, Minnie Steelman, Juanita Rollins, Cora Bain, Mildred Dawdy, Laura Dawdy and Hazel Stromatt.

Hostesses for the June meeting will be Minnie Steelman and Georgia Ford.

Mrs. Maude Johnson left Friday for Granite City where she will attend a pre-nuptial shower on Sunday afternoon, honoring the bride-to-be of her grandson Eddie Bain. She expects to return home Monday.

In Hollywood

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer
PARIS (AP) — "Imagine dear, sweet Melanie in Britain!" exclaimed Olivia de Havilland in mock horror.

Melanie, of course, was the saccharine belle of "Gone With the Wind," which Miss de Havilland played with remarkable skill in 1939.

In more recent times she appeared in "Lady in a Cage," a Gothic tale of such horror that the British censor refused to allow it to be shown in the isles. The British are more alarmed by violence than by sex in films; the reverse is true in America.

"I have absolutely no regrets about doing the picture," said Olivia. "I thought it was a testament against senseless violence, and I was happy that the French critics agreed. In fact, they raved so much about it that the film was booked into the London Film Festival; it will apparently be the only time 'Lady in a Cage' will play in England."

The actress was commenting over tea in her house on Rue de Benouville near the heart of Paris. She fits gracefully into the Parisian life, although she was born in Tokyo of English parents and spent most of her girlhood and acting career in America.

She moved to Paris nine years ago, when she married magazine editor Pierre Gallante. The marriage appears to have hit and impasse, but she continues her residence here.

It has been more than a year since Oliva made her last film. She has averaged a film a year in recent times.

"And now the time is getting critical," she said. "I've started working on my needlepoint again, and I'm painting two canvases. I rattle about the house so that everyone wishes I would go back to work and return refreshed."

Film making has been such a habit to the two-time Academy Award winner that she can't live for long without it.

She remains selective. Last year she declined a return to Warners for "Never Too Late," figuring it wouldn't be right for her image.

Smithsonian Institution Is Capital's Newest Nightspot

By KELLY SMITH
WASHINGTON (AP) — The Smithsonian Institution — by popular concept a staid, crusty old museum — is the capital's newest nightspot.

By day, some 10 million visitors a year wander the hallways of relics and artifacts. By night, the corridors tremble to beats of the Jerk, Watutsi, and candlelight dinners and receptions.

"It's fantastic," says Meredith Johnson, whose duties as acting director of museum services now include protocol. "We're really swinging over here."

The man responsible is Dr. Sidney Dillon Ripley, the tall, bald scholar who used to do some fantastic things at Yale's Museum of Natural History. He once enlivened an exhibition of Egyptian treasures by hiring a performer to do an Egyptian folk dance, which turned out to be a belly dance.

Since February 1964, Ripley has been the head man at the 118-year-old Smithsonian.

He's initiated receptions, teas, luncheons, dinners, concerts, music on the mall — and even a black-tie reception at the zoo.

Barely a day goes by without a social function somewhere in the Smithsonian realm. Usually, there are several.

It certainly draws the city's most familiar faces.

At the recent opera ball — one of the big social toasts to spring — there were some 20 ambassadors, half the Cabinet, a plane-load of New Yorkers, and much of the East Coast's wealth.

The ball was held in the Smithsonian's Museum of History and Technology at midnight.

Alice Roosevelt Longworth, on the social scene for half a century, was delighted with the frenzied dances. Bill Moyers, over from the White House, did an energetic Frug. Lydia Katzenbach, whose husband runs the Justice Department, and Mrs. Edward M. Kennedy, wife of the senator, were great with Watutsi.

Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara danced a fast two-step with Ethel Kennedy, then took her husband, Robert F. Kennedy, and Llewellyn E. Thompson Jr., former ambassador to the Soviet Union, aside for consultations under the escalator.

Mrs. Rudolph E. Carter, wife of a State Department official, showed up wearing a peek-a-boo dress with a flesh-colored body stocking, the effect of which was spectacular.

She was told to go home and change, and did. But she came back, not to miss any of the fun.

As the last guests left the museum at 3 a.m., the building maintenance crews — some still wearing tuxedos — took over. By morning everything was back in order.

A few days later, Rep. H. R. Gross, R-Iowa, criticized use of the Smithsonian for the party.

"I was amazed and shocked that they had a $75 to $100 per ticket dance at the Smithsonian with the Rev. Moyers doing the Watutsi and Frug and one woman sent home to get dressed because she was half naked," Gross said.

Moyers is an ordained Baptist minister. The Smithsonian had no comment.

Business Mirror

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst
NEW YORK (AP) — European central bankers seem as perplexed by the U.S. economic mix as are most Americans in and out of Wall Street.

The European money managers are questioning their American counterparts closely on whether U.S. business is headed for a superboom — with its threat of bust — or is leveling off prior to a possible turnaround.

They are concerned because of the prime role of the United States in world monetary and economic affairs.

Just what's happening to the American economy is dominating the international conference of the American Bankers Association in Madrid, Spain, and just what really is happening depends on which of the experts you are listening to.

Europeans are questioning the official Washington view as outlined to them in Madrid by Gardner Ackley, chairman of President Johnson's Council of Economic Advisers. He is trying to assure them that the American economy is slowing down in healthy fashion after expanding too fast in the first three months of this year.

But the European central bankers seem to be taking a different view than did the traders in the U.S. stock markets. The April slowdown sent stock prices down sharply. Even more disturbing to the markets was the drop in new car sales and production in May.

But the bankers from 15 other nations are questioning the official Washington view that restraint is now the watchword rather than speculation. The Europeans are particularly skittish at the prospects of continuing inflation in this country, mindful of the inflation inroads into their own economies.

The perplexities of the current situation in the U.S. economy — is it or isn't it at a turning point? — also are the dominant themes of meetings under way in New York.

Steelmen are debating both close-range and long-range outlooks for their industry at the annual meeting of the American Iron & Steel Institute.

The professional watchers of the stock market are gathered at the Financial Analysts Federation's annual meeting. And their views range all the way from optimism to pessimism, with the middle ground of fingers-crossed attracting the most adherents.

It's a puzzling time — whether you look at it from this side of the Atlantic or the other.

Polly's Pointers Cook Faces Sticky Situation

By POLLY CRAMER
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.
Polly's Problem

DEAR POLLY — I have two Teflon-coated fry pans about five years old. I have not used them for some time because everything sticks to the pans.
Can anything be done to restore finish so that food will not stick when frying? — MRS. G.

DEAR POLLY — When cooking something that splatters, like frying bacon or bubbling spaghetti sauce, I wrap a piece of aluminum foil around the top of the pan on the outside and pinch it in at the handle. This makes a spatter guard with the aluminum standing up like a collar above the rim of the pan. —
REVE

DEAR POLLY — Save that leaky hot-water bottle and use it as a safe and neat receptacle for oil-treated cleaning cloths.
Cut a long horizontal slit in it and hang in the broom closet.

MRS. A. N.

DEAR POLLY — When my machine sewing is interrupted by the door bell or the telephone, I find it safer to loosen the stop-motion screw on the handwheel of the machine so there is no chance of my three-year-old running the needle through her finger. Children may not notice your turning the wheel but they will see you pull the plug out of the socket and might try to put it back in.
However, as an extra measure of safety it is wise to unplug the machine and loosen the wheel.

—PATTY

GIRLS — I think that is an excellent idea as it is so easy to loosen the wheel just as you do when getting ready to wind the bobbin. I once had a sewing machine needle go through a finger and nothing can be more painful. —POLLY

DEAR POLLY — I am a recipe collector but never tried them out. Once a week I now go over them, pick out at least one that I am going to try, add the extra ingredients needed to my shopping list and then post the recipe in a conspicuous place in the kitchen so I will not forget.
I have tried several new ones since the first of the year and have three out to try this week.
Without this system they would be gathering dust. —MRS. L. M.

GIRLS — I find trying new recipes makes the actual cooking so much more interesting, to say nothing of what it does for meals. We can all so easily get into a rut and have the same old things just because they are easy and the family likes them.
It is good for the family to try different things, too. —POLLY

Gemini 9 Crew Rehearses For Tuesday Launch

By HOWARD BENEDICT
CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — With their Atlas target booster rocket cleared for launching, the Gemini 9 astronauts today rehearse for next Tuesday's second attempt at a rendezvous and space walk mission.

Air Force Lt. Col. Thomas P. Stafford and Navy Lt. Cmdr. Eugene A. Cernan climb into their spacecraft to repeat a simulated flight exercise they ran two weeks ago before their abortive first launching attempt.

They had their flight postponed when an Atlas hurling an Agena target satellite toward orbit suffered engine failure and the $13 million rocket fell into the Atlantic Ocean.

U.S.-NATO

Some typical comments: "European countries ought not to depend on us entirely for troop support and we ought to cut down the number of our own as much as reasonably possible."

Kennedy: "I would be in favor of reducing our forces to a token level as a long term objective, after consultation and agreement with our allies. As of the moment, I would not be in favor of it."

Eight Democrats and seven Republicans said they are against paring down American forces to a token level. Several of them said any move of this nature would be likely to torpedo NATO.

So the AFL-CIO has served notice it will henceforth for everything it can get, unless there is assurance of some effective restraint on prices and profits. That poses the threat of a real price-wage spiral unless the labor-management advisers bring in some bright ideas soon.

Bernalillo County (Albuquerque) sheriff's office Wednesday night with a wound in his shoulder.

Deputy Sheriff Bruce Nietzel told The Associated Press that Sumption refused:

He was pursuing a car on U.S. 45 near Tuscola Monday night when the auto turned onto a side road and stopped.

As Sumption was getting out of his squad car, two male suspects of the other car jumped him and one shot him in the right shoulder. He was handcuffed and then given some kind of sedation.

Sumption said he became foggy from effects of the drug but recalled he was placed in the assailants car, in which he said there were four men in all. He said one of the men mentioned they were going to drop someone off in El Paso.

SHORT RISBS

OK Grant For Four Educational Research Labs

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Office of Education has approved a $188,580 grant to finance a six-month planning program for establishment of a four-state educational research laboratory in the Midwest.

The project director will be Dr. David M. Jackson, associate dean of the college of education at the University of Illinois.

The four states affected are Indiana, Illinois, Michigan and Wisconsin. Headquarters will be at Champaign-Urbana, Ill., for the first three months and later at Chicago and Indianapolis.

A non-profit corporation is to operate the multi-million dollar laboratory, which is expected to involve expenditure of $5 million annually by its fifth year.

Serving as vice presidents of the corporation will be David L. Rice, on leave of absence from the faculty of Ball State University, and William Rogge of the University of Illinois faculty.

The summary was made by Gen. Alexei A. Yepishev, head of the central political department of the Soviet army and navy, in a speech reported by the military paper Red Star.

Yepishev, the Soviet Communist party's watchdog for the armed services, spoke at a meeting on "military patriotic education of Soviet youth" through literature and art.

The defense minister, Marshal Rodion Y. Malinovsky, attended the recent meeting.

Yepishev's hard line on culture came as part of a resurgence lately of Stalinist-type comments about arts.

Yepishev's praise of writers and artists who were favored during the Stalin era indicated a craving for the simple old days of party-line culture that existed only to support the regime.

In the past decade some writers have deviated from the simple approach of depicting heroic builders of communism.

Church made the recommendation in a report on his recent trip on behalf of the committee to London, Paris, Brussels, Bonn and Berlin. During the tour he conferred with Western European leaders, including De Gaulle.

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Senate Foreign Relations Committee member has called for a summit meeting between President Johnson and French President Charles de Gaulle to help melt "a diplomatic glacier" he said separates the two countries.

Sen. Frank Church, D-Idaho, said "if a summit meeting between the two presidents is not now feasible," then Johnson should send a personal representative to Paris "to reopen and develop a dialogue to the point where a summit meeting would seem likely to bear fruit."

BLOOMINGTON MAN PLEADS GUILTY TO EMBEZZLEMENT

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (AP) — Robert J. Kerr of Bloomington has pleaded guilty in U.S. District Court to a charge of embezzling $1,182 from the McLean County Bank of Bloomington Oct. 22.

A criminal information filed against Kerr, 39, said he was an assistance vice president and installment loan officer when the embezzlement occurred.

Kerr entered his plea before Judge Omer Poos Wednesday and asked for probation. The request was referred to a probation officer.

The federal grand jury indicted David Allen Price, 22, of Hopeville, for willful failure to report for civilian employment in lieu of serving in the armed forces. U.S. Atty. Richard Eggleston said Price is a conscientious objector.

Kenneth D. Staggs, 23, of Alton, was indicted for failure to report for military induction. A warrant was issued for his arrest.

U. I. EDUCATORS HAVE HIGH POSTS IN 4-STATE STUDY

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Office of Education has approved a $188,580 grant for a six-month planning program for establishment of a four-state educational research laboratory in the Midwest.

FORD HEIRSS HAS DAUGHTER

NEW YORK (AP) — New York Hospital reported today that Charlotte Ford Niarchos and her newborn daughter were doing fine.

Mrs. Niarchos, 24-year-old daughter of auto magnate Henry Ford II, gave birth to the 7-pound, 1-ounce girl Wednesday. She is the wife of Stavros Niarchos, 56-year-old Greek merchant fleet owner.

The couple was married in Mexico last Dec. 16.

Russians Urge Appreciation Of Stalin's Moves

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet military establishment has thrown its considerable weight against liberals on the Soviet cultural scene.

Literature must show "the greatness of our time" instead of questioning heroic legends of World War II, a military spokesman says. And, he adds, Joseph V. Stalin's reasons for sending people to their death or concentration camps should be appreciated.

After earlier sniping by Red army spokesmen at liberal writers who failed to follow the officially endorsed canons of "Socialist realism," a summary of the military attitude on culture was published Wednesday with these points.

The summary was made by Gen. Alexei A. Yepishev, head of the central political department of the Soviet army and navy, in a speech reported by the military paper Red Star.

Yepishev, the Soviet Communist party's watchdog for the armed services, spoke at a meeting on "military patriotic education of Soviet youth" through literature and art.

New York Stock Market

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market clung to a gain late this afternoon despite profit taking that rattled the list. Trading was moderate.

Here was the picture near the close:

Volume for the day was estimated at 6 million shares compared with 5.83 million Wednesday.

The list was meeting increasing resistance on the upside as it sought to push its recovery into the fifth straight session.

Steels held a solid front of gains, most of them very narrow, on news of booming steel production. Aerospace issues were ahead. Coppers were higher on balance, trimming some of their gains.

The glamor stocks were on a lull, despite an occasional casualty. Magnavox, up about 1 1/2, loomed as the volume leader. Boeing rose 2, Motorola nearly 6, Teledyne almost 7, Texas Instruments about 2 1/2, Braniff Airways 4.

Corning Glass ran up 10 points. Polaroid dropped 2, Xerox about 1 1/2, Raytheon a fraction. Du Pont was unchanged.

Responding to stock split news, Bendix gained about 1 1/2 and Cincinnati Milling around 2 1/2.

Up about a point were Anaconda, Santa Fe, American Can, Douglas Aircraft, Fairchild Camera and Instrument, McDonnell Aircraft and Morrell.

Eastern Air Lines dropped 2 and United was off a fraction. Northwest Airlines and Mississippi River Fuel were up about 2 each.

Prices on the American Stock Exchange were generally higher in active trading.

Corporate and U.S. government bonds were generally unchanged.

BRIGHT TEEN-AGERS STEAL MATERIALS TO MAKE LSD DRUG

FORT LAUDERDALE, Fla. (AP) — Police say about 10 teen-agers—some with intelligence at the genius level—have stolen materials to manufacture nerve gas, the hallucinatory drug LSD and mapped out an intricate blueprint to assault a big bank.

Three of them were under arrest. Police also said they seized 131 sticks of dynamite and supplies of chemicals stolen in a series of burglaries from doctors' offices.

Police Lt. William McCutcheon said the gang had stolen the materials to make plastic bombs and had drawn a plan for a "full-scale attack on one of Fort Lauderdale's largest banks."

Trial Of Menard Inmates Recessed For Two Weeks

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (AP) — The Circuit Court murder trial of four Menard Prison inmates was recessed Wednesday to give one of the defendants time to decide whether he wants to retain his present attorney.

Judge Creel Douglass told John Stamps of Granite City he must decide by May 31 whether he wants to hire another attorney, ask for a public defender or retain his present counsel.

Stamps and the other three inmates are accused of slaying three guards during a prison riot Nov. 23. They are William Bassett, Fairfield; Printess Ray Griffin, Chicago; and Alonzo Jones, Manchester, Tenn.

Douglass recessed the trial, now in its fourth week, after Stamps told the court he did not want to be represented by Richard Shalkewitz of Alton.

Shalkewitz replaced his law partner, Irving Wiseman of Alton, after Wiseman became ill and was hospitalized during the second week of the trial. Wiseman may be hospitalized at least six more weeks, Shalkewitz said.

Attorneys for the other three defendants are all court-appointed.

A jury has not yet been selected for the trial.

Guyana Marks Independence From Britain

GEORGETOWN (AP) — Thousands of peasants in donkey carts and buses streamed into rain-drenched Georgetown Wednesday for street dancing and other merrymaking to celebrate Guyana's independence from Britain, effective at midnight.

The peasants crowding the streets of this capital on the northeast coast of South America were decked out in their best clothes and carried small, five-colored flags, their national emblem, with the lowering of the Union Jack for the last time over British Guyana.

Former Marxist Prime Minister Cheddi Jagan and his Peoples Progressive party boycotted the celebrations under his policy of "Independence yes, celebrations no."

DRIVING ON RIGHT
The rule of driving on the right in the United States originated with the pioneers of the West. As Conestoga wagons traveled west along the National Road, the teamster sat astride the left wheel horse. On meeting another wagon, he passed to the right in order to watch the space between the wheel hubs.

Picnic Food Featured For Holiday Weekend

NEW YORK (AP) — The ingredients for summer picnics are mounting in the food markets for the Memorial Day weekend. There are chickens, hams, eggs, watermelons.

Broilers are featured as a best buy in most areas. Beef is more plentiful. Egg prices have been dropping for weeks. Tons of watermelons have moved to market, along with increasing supplies of fresh peaches and cherries.

Heavy rains damaged the strawberry crop in Louisiana and delayed the harvest in Tennessee. Losses to the crop in northern and eastern Kentucky were heavy.

The rains also cut the tomato crops in Texas and Indiana. There have been blight problems with pears in California, and spotty damage to the sweet cherry crop in the Yakima Valley of Washington.

The result has been lagging supplies of produce in many areas. Tuna fish, catsup, tomato

Homemade Communication

Once we've put a man on the moon — or even before — wouldn't it be great if we could do something even tougher and establish contact between parents and their children?

Not that some moms and pops aren't getting along fine with their kids. Rumors keep popping up that this sort of thing is happening again and again.

But from what you see and hear, you have to conclude that in many homes the parents and children are not only on different wave lengths but practically living in different worlds as well. To wit:

"I may be a kind of a nut," apologizes one teen-ager, "but I kind of like parents." (He says it as if he were confessing he hates pizza and hamburger.)

"I simply can't get through to our boy," a father admits forlornly. "He regards me as a zombie. If I told him two and two make four, he'd give me an argument."

It's ironic and tragic that in a day when human relations and communications are very big and getting bigger, the family circle seems to be flunking both courses.

One father — a sincere type guy who doesn't say too much because he doesn't want to be written off as a know-it-all—favors a simple, homemade recipe he believes will relieve the situation.

He thinks parents should (1) expect obedience and respect from their children, beginning at birth and continuing from there on — and earn it by the personal example they set; (2) try harder to understand the kids, even if it means spending more time with them, and (3) exercise firm but reasonable discipline, no matter how much courage it takes.

"I know it sounds corny," he concedes, "but it has worked pretty well in our family." And it has.

Who knows? If enough of us gave this formula a real hard try, it just might work.

It might, that is, if we worked as hard to make it work as we do to put over a big business deal or break 80 on the golf course.

A Matter Of Attitude

This year's flood of high school graduates is about to hit the labor market. Although many will eventually end up in the armed services or in college, most of the graduates will be looking for some kind of job, temporary or permanent. It is a point worth making that what they find — certainly in the first instance — may depend as much on their attitudes and appearance as on education or vocational training.

The business world is an adult environment. There is little place in it for the peculiarities of dress often fancied by teen-agers. The job seeker who wants to be treated as an adult should begin by looking like one.

The expression of bored disdain that made such a hit with a boy's high school peers may serve as a natural defense against nervousness in a job interview, but it is not likely to impress an employer favorably. The executive knows that I-couldn't-care-less doesn't make a business hum. The sooner the job hunter finds it out, the better his chances of success.

It is at this moment of enlightenment that the graduate joins the labor market as an adult, as a serious contender for advancement. It is then he comes of age, no matter what the years say. After that his training and willingness to do the best he can will become the decisive factors. But first he has to get over the hump of "behaving like a kid," as the saying goes, in an adult world.

"I'm looking for adventure, excitement, beautiful women," cried the young man to his father as he prepared to leave home. "Don't try to stop me, I'm on my way." "Who's trying to stop you?" shouted his father. "Take me along."

Dear Ann:

"Assets" Bring Nothing But Trouble

By ANN LANDERS
Dear Ann Landers: I was touched by the letter from "Over-Endowed." Several years ago I had her measurements — and her problems. I could write a book about the cruelty I suffered from members of both sexes.

I tried desperately to achieve recognition for something besides my figure, but it was hopeless. My "assets," which so many girls envied (and so many boys lusted after), brought me nothing but trouble.

Thank God those wretched days are over. What a relief that my once spectacular figure has gone the way of too much flesh. Now I have friends who recognize that I have a bright mind, and a nice philosophy.

Believe me, Ann, it's a lonely world for the Too Beautiful. — ONE WHO WAS

Dear One: It's a lonely world for the dogs, too — probably lonelier.

Can it be that you really developed your bright mind and your nice philosophy when you could no longer count on the external trappings? This sometimes happens and I'll bet it happened to you, Doll.

Dear Ann Landers: I have a mother and two sisters who ran my life. They pushed me into a loveless marriage with a man who was too old for me. After 10 years of misery I somehow found the courage to take a stand against my family and get a divorce. The only good thing that came out of that marriage was a wonderful son. Two years after my divorce I married a marvelous man and we moved to another state. He has been a devoted husband and father and I now know the meaning of real contentment.

I stayed away from my family for seven years. Their letters were filled with hostility and resentment. Every time I got a letter from home I'd also get an eye-piercing headache.

A few months ago I decided to go home and see if I could not make peace with my family. I wasn't in the house 15 minutes when my mother and sisters suggested that I take the boy to see his father. In the 10 years that had passed the man had not tried, even once, to contact his son. Neither had he offered one penny toward the boy's support. Yet my family kept saying, "But he IS the boy's father..."

I refused to budge and a big fight followed. They said I was the meanest person who ever lived and crazy besides. What do you think about this? — CINDERELLA

Dear Cinderella: The decision to see or not to see your ex-husband was yours to make. The family should not have mentioned his name. It is obvious that they learned nothing from those long seven years. The best thing that exists between you and your relatives is distance. Keep it that way.

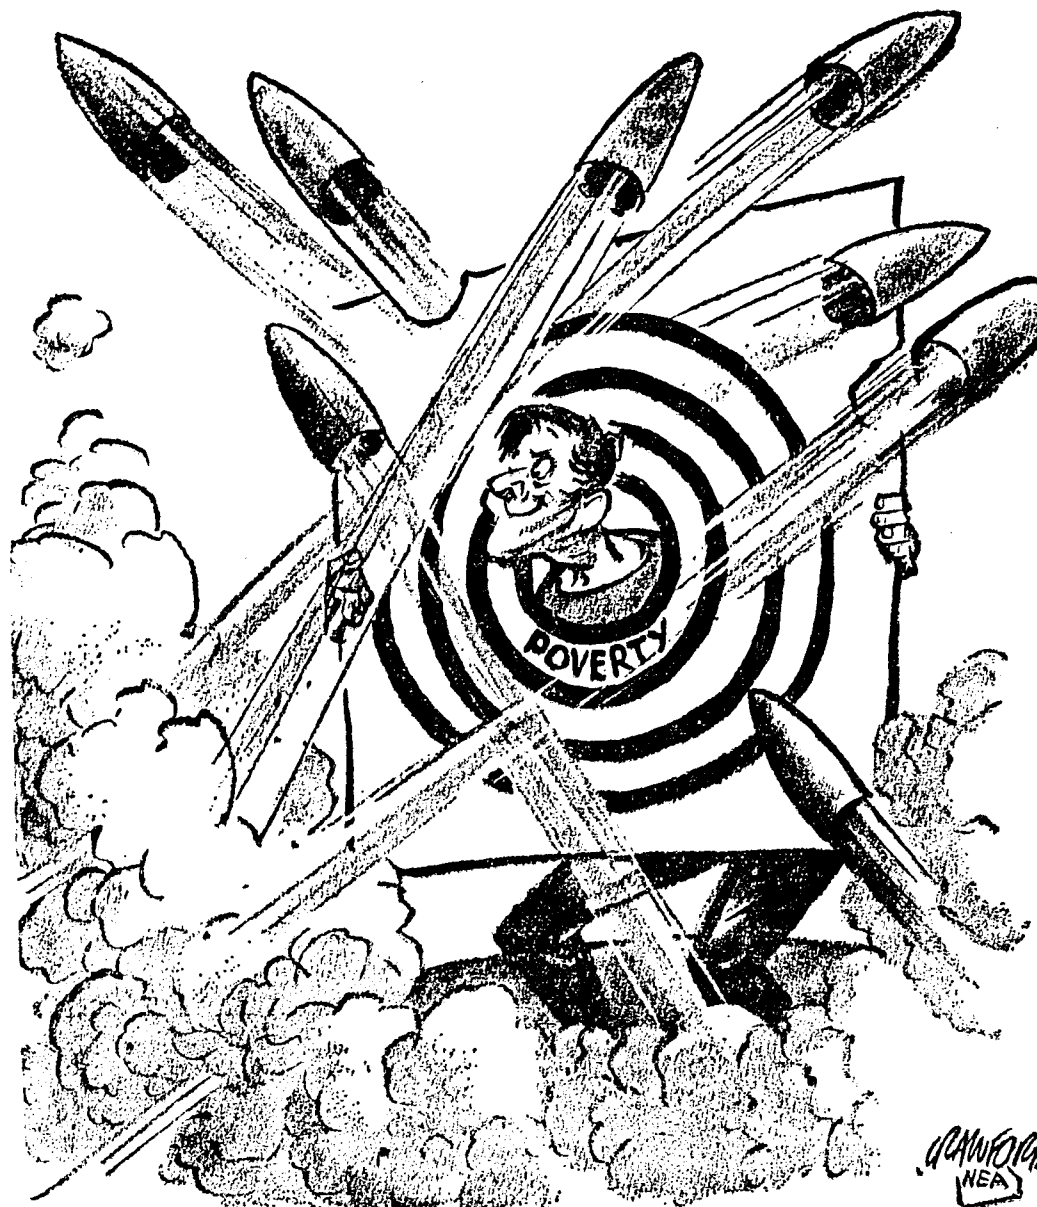

Confidential to SICK OF SCHOOL AND WASTING MY TIME: I know all about the dropouts who made it big — the Wright Brothers, Picasso, Marconi, Thomas Edison and Mark Twain, to name a few — but they didn't bum money off their dads and go riding around on motorcycles. They managed to educate themselves. Stay in school and get your diploma or you'll regret it.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

It takes between 18 to 20 months to manufacture snuff, a powdered preparation which involves grinding the tobacco and fermenting it. Inhaling snuff became common in England around the turn of the 17th century and became universal during the 18th century. At first snuff users carried their own graters, which were often decorated with the art and craft of the miniature painter, the enameler, jeweler, goldsmith and silversmith.

Bob Kennedy Is Leading IN '72 Presidential Race

By BRUCE BLOSSAT
Washington Correspondent
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.
WASHINGTON (NEA) — Never in U.S. history has there been as much genuine interest as there now is in a presidential election six years away.

The popular and political concern really narrows to one question: Who will succeed President Lyndon Johnson as Democratic nominee in 1972? The early calculating, supported by an occasional poll, has to favor Sen. Robert F. Kennedy of New York.

In plain fact, the existence on the political scene of two brothers of the late John F. Kennedy is one prime reason for the great show of interest in 1972.

More or less continuous random soundings among politicians and voters in the American hinterland suggest that large numbers can hardly wait to vote for another Kennedy for president.

In part this reflects a transfer of affection once given the late president. But it also seems to reflect a wide conviction that John Kennedy's election signaled the Rise of the Young, and that this interrupted revolution must be resumed as quickly as possible.

The Kennedy prospect poses serious problems for the struggling Republicans, unless they manage to upstage a still driving Lyndon Johnson in 1968.

Nothing, of course, is sure in politics. Vice President Hubert Humphrey could gain the White House by one circumstance or another, and thus delay a new turn toward the Kennedys. The odds run the other way.

No one can foresee what Johnson himself might do to try to assure a successor nominee of his own choice. Most U.S. presidents have exhibited neither grace nor crucial influence in the transition to a new torchbearer.

If the signs read them as they do today, Johnson would have a very difficult time gaining the nomination for Humphrey or anybody else other than Robert Kennedy.

A year ago, the "Kennedy phenomenon" was just as real but interested political figures were not sure whether the mantle would fall upon the New York senator or his young brother, Sen. Edward M. (Ted) Kennedy of Massachusetts.

The aura of the "ruthless young man" still clung to Robert Kennedy. Unfriendly, vocal liberals kept the image alive. Meanwhile, Ted was moving west — as he still is. He looked to many like the better bet.

Now Bob has jumped ahead as "the" Kennedy spoken of in presidential terms. He is mellower and more relaxed. His wit, always present, is showing more. His public utterances have had automatic "clout," and with a notable exception or two, good political effect for him.

Doctrinaire liberals and intellectuals who opposed John Kennedy and fought Bob's election in New York have swung his way. Like his brother, he could win a nomination without them. Yet it helps a little that he no longer pillory him.

His real strength is with voters who remember his dead brother, and with politicians who know they remember. If this condition holds through the years ahead, the opinion polls will be his staunch allies.

He need not worry now — and he does not — about building a field organization or encouraging "Kennedy men" to beat "Johnson men" or "Humphrey men" in Democratic races across the country. Demonstrated strength draws support — and money — easily.

Much that is unpredictable will occur between now and 1972. But it may take at least a cataclysm or two to alter things as to deny Robert Kennedy high prospects in that year.

The World Today

By STERLING F. GREEN

WASHINGTON (AP) — The administration's wage-price guidelines may be headed for extensive alterations or the scrap heap.

That's the judgment of some labor-management relations experts who have good administration contacts.

Their opinions cannot be documented officially because the Johnson administration, until it has a better stabilization device to offer as a substitute, is bound to insist 3.2 per cent is now and ever shall be a reasonable, fair and noninflationary wage increase.

Nevertheless the search for a better device or a revised formula has begun. That's the job for which President Johnson recently revived the Labor-Management Advisory Committee. He asked its advice on how to "cope with the threat of inflation in an expanding economy."

Labor has repudiated the "voluntary" guidelines. In effect the guidelines impose a ceiling only on workers' wages, the unions say, while allowing price and corporation profits to soar. And some labor relations experts hold that a guideline policy which might work in a slack economy is unlikely to work in a full employment economy.

Can a better but still voluntary way be found — one acceptable to both labor and management?

Some clue may come June 3, when the 21-member committee — seven members each from industry, labor and the public — holds its second meeting in the offices of Secretary of Labor W. Willard Wirtz, the chairman.

A six-member working subcommittee — two leaders from each of the three sides — then will report on progress. They could come in empty-handed. Conceivably, they might even report the present guidelines are the best approach they can think of.

But there are indications hard, sincere effort is being poured into the search by the unseen but influential six. Only the labor pair has been identified. They are AFL-CIO President George Meany and United Steelworkers President F. W. Abel. Presumably the management men have equal stature in industry; if they come up with an idea, they will be listened to.

Perhaps Meany and Abel will be the two men hardest to satisfy. Labor has come to feel it was sold an unintentional bill of goods when President John F. Kennedy posted the guidelines. Disillusionment came quickly. The steelworkers signed a settlement called "noninflationary" but the steel firms promptly raised their prices.

That set off the 1962 battle between Kennedy and Big Steel. The price hike was rescinded and industry leaders denounced the guidelines. Nobody loved them, but the expanding economy stayed stable for four years.

Now, in the fifth year of an unprecedented five-year boom, things have heated up. The price creep has become a trot and profits have set records.

As the guidelines have come to be interpreted, the gains in worker productivity over the past five years should have led to a wage guideline increase from 3.2 per cent to 3.6 per cent this year.

But the White House is sticking to the 3.2 formula, even as the Labor Department reports the real spendable earnings of factory workers have declined.

THE DOCTOR SAYS

New Methods Revealing Many "Hidden Diabetics"

By WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT M.D.

Newspaper Enterprise Assn.
Interest in diabetes has been steadily increasing as new methods for early detection of this disease are revealing many new cases. It is estimated that at least two million persons in the United States have diabetes that have not yet been diagnosed.

Some communities are conducting screening programs to find these "hidden diabetics." In one area, 34 new cases were found in every 1,000 persons tested as compared with an average of 8.6 in other areas. This was accomplished by concentrating on high-risk groups such as relatives of known diabetics, women who have borne babies weighing more than 10 pounds at birth, persons who are more than 10 per cent over the normal weight for their height and persons who are over 60.

In this area the screening program was widely publicized and a free test for the blood sugar level was offered. No one was labeled a new case of diabetes until his family doctor had confirmed the diagnosis.

Early detection coupled with proper treatment is an important means of preventing serious complications of this disease such as blindness, "grene of the toes, neuritis and coma.

Q—I have only one kidney and it is not too good. I also have high blood pressure. My doctor has given me many kinds of water pills but they all aggravate my gouty arthritis. For the gout I take colchicine which in turn causes severe diarrhea. To cure this I take paregoric. I feel like I'm riding a medicinal merry-go-round. What do you advise?

A—A large group of thiazides are now widely used as diuretics. They will not cause gout but they will aggravate it. If your joint pains cannot be controlled by reducing the dosage of this type of water pill, you might try spironolactone or triamterene. These are obtainable only on a doctor's prescription.

The modern drug for gout is probenecid. It should not cause diarrhea but this or any other drug you might take could have unpleasant side effects unless the dosage is carefully adjusted to your needs.

Q—Is Triavil habit-forming? Are there any bad side effects?

A—Side effects from this tranquilizer are rare but may include eczema, shortness of breath, waterlogging and convulsions. Anyone who is taking this drug should have periodic blood counts and liver function tests. It is not habit-forming.

An Act Expressing Love

By Mrs. Muriel Lawrence
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.
DEAR MRS. LAWRENCE: I have tried to ignore my 5-year-old girl's thumb-sucking. However, she sucks it in public and this is a great embarrassment to me because it shows her insecurity. She will suck it on the bus or even when I'm talking to a clerk in a store. She had outgrown the habit but went back to it when her little sister was born two years ago. It is an embarrassment to her, too, as the other children on our block make fun of her...

ANSWER: It's sad that every one has to be so embarrassed by this thumb-sucking. It is a special pity that it has to embarrass you.

Because, you see, your little girl's thumb-sucking is an announcement that she is very fond of you. It is an act that pays tribute to you and the dearth of what you gave her as a baby. It's an act that is connected to her memories of her babyhood's happy, sucking closeness to you. When her 5-year-old world gets too much for her, she returns to these memories of past babyhood happiness with you by the babyhood act of sucking.

The child experts who tell us that her thumb-sucking represents "insecurity" do exactly the same thing. Oh, they don't suck their thumbs when their worlds get too much for them. But they certainly retreat into activities they associate with past happiness. The moment they feel overburdened by the present's demands, off they go to seashores or mountains, to the swimming, the tennis, the solitary walks the pasts have taught them to trust as restorative activities.

Nobody calls them "insecure" for walking out on the too-demanding present in order to recover themselves in seashore and mountain retreats that their memories connect to past joys. Everybody thinks they're very sensible. Well, if they're sensible, so is your little girl when she walks out on her over-demanding present to recover herself in the act of thumb-sucking she connects to past joys with you.

Boy, we will belittle ourselves, won't we?

Here is this child of yours sucking her thumb in precious reminiscence of her babyhood closeness to you and all you can see in it is cause for embarrassment! But oh, what might happen if you could see it as her effort to return to lost closeness to you. Then, in the bus instead of feeling resentful embarrassment when the thumb goes into the mouth, you'd put your arm around her and invite her to look at the world outside with you. You'd give her the old physical closeness and by this giving lead her forward into 5-year-old interest in the present.

Everyone Likes These Spareribs

BARBECUED SPARERIBS are a cookout season special.

By GAYNOR MADDOX
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.
The Memorial Day weekend starts the long fun season of the outdoor grill. The tall, white chefs' hats, the dizzy aprons and the big asbestos gloves appear on the domestic scene as the men of the family take over.

For a starter, how about barbecuing a rack of spareribs. Everyone likes them and they are easy to grill. Select a well-seasoned marinating sauce. For a welcome extra bit of zip to the sauce, add a small amount of aromatic bitters.

Barbecued Spareribs
2 racks spareribs, about 4 pounds
3 cans (8-ounce) tomato sauce with cheese
1-3 cup dark brown sugar
3 tablespoons chopped onion
1 clove garlic, mashed
Juice of 2 lemons
1-3 cup oil
1/2 teaspoon ground white pepper
2 tablespoons Angostura aromatic bitters
Have butcher crack spareribs

so they can be cut easily after cooking. Wash spareribs and pat dry. Combine remaining ingredients and simmer in saucepan for 15 minutes, turning once. Brush ribs generously with sauce and place high above grill coals, about 8 to 10 inches. Broil, turning occasionally and brushing frequently with sauce, for 1 hour or until ribs are brown and done.

There should be no inferiors and no superiors for true world friendship. —Carlos Romulo, former president of the Philippines.

Pavement Collapses On Lurton Street

A section of pavement on Lurton street between College and East Beecher, collapsed Wednesday night when the weight of a truck caused the area of street to give-way.

Driver of the Freesen Brothers truck, Raymond Christison escaped unhurt.

Christison said that he was in the process of patching sections of pavement in an alley-way between two MacMurray college dormitories.

He pulled the truck out into the street preparing to unload some black-topping.

Christison said he noticed the truck lean, and it appeared to look as though a tire was flat. "As I watched, the truck sank lower and lower into the street, I couldn't figure it out," he told reporters.

The front right end of the truck sank into a hole, measured five to six feet deep, and approximately 15 feet in diameter.

An Allied Motors company wrecker lifted the truck from the cave-in.

Bystanders pointed out what appeared to be either a water main or sewer line running along one side of the hole. Police blocked - off the area to vehicle traffic.

The incident occurred about 8:30 p.m.

DRIVER'S TEST RAISES PROBLEM OF TURN SIGNALS

A CBS television program billed as the National Driver's Test aired Tuesday evening prompted several calls to police headquarters in Jacksonville Wednesday morning concerning the use of turn signals while on the highway.

Chief of Police Charles P. Runkel said turn signals are entirely legal for use on the highways. Runkel said one aspect of the television program that caused some confusion was in the use of turn signals while driving on the highway.

Illinois law authorizes the use of turn signals to indicate an intention to turn or change lanes but shall not be flashed as a courtesy or pass signal to operators of other vehicles approaching from the rear.

Runkel said the program was instructive and well planned but left several local residents confused on the use of turn signals as they apply to Illinois law.

Flood Grand-Slam Caps 9-1 Card Edge

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Curt Flood capped a seven-run seventh-inning uprising with a grand-slam homer as the St. Louis Cardinals broke open a 2-1 game and carried a 9-1 victory over the Chicago Cubs Wednesday night.

Trio Makes Former Owners Look Bad

NEW YORK (AP) — Jack O'Donoghue, Matty Alou and Bill Hands have joined Frank Robinson in the ranks of deals their former owners would like to forget.

Milt Pappas' recent winning streak for Cincinnati eased some of the pressure that had been building up on the Reds while Robinson was tearing the American League apart with the Baltimore Orioles. Robinson has cooled off a bit but still was hitting a solid .330 with 10 homers on averages through Tuesday night.

O'Donoghue simply has been unbeatable since the Kansas City A's sent him to Cleveland for Ralph Terry and a bundle of cash. Birdie Tebbets is having trouble finding a spot in his rotation for the Irishman whose last effort was a three-hit complete game against the Chicago White Sox.

Nicholson Bats Houston To 7-1 Count Over Mets

HOUSTON (AP) — Dave Nicholson collected his third homer, a double and two singles and batted in two runs in support of Larry Dierker's pitching in a 7-1 Houston victory over the New York Mets Wednesday night.

Dierker, bringing his record to 2-0, allowed five hits, struck out eight and walked two.

The 4-for-4 spree sent Nicholson's average to .333.

Nicholson's double triggered a two-run start by the Astros in the second inning. Felix Mantilla was hit by a pitched ball and John Bateman singled to left to score Nicholson. When the ball got away from Cleon Jones for an error, Mantilla also scored.

In the third inning, Nicholson singled home Sonny Jackson, who had walked, stolen second for his 14th stolen base and gone to on an infield out. Bob Aspromonte's double, a sacrifice and Rusty Staub's sacrifice fly added a run in the fourth.

The homer by Nicholson started the Astros on a two-run spree in the sixth. Bateman's triple and Staub's single added the other run, and Bateman homered in the eighth.

Pappas Pitches Reds To 6-2 Win Past Braves

CINCINNATI (AP) — Cincinnati scored two runs on a pair of sixth-inning errors by Woody Woodward, and Milt Pappas recorded his fourth straight complete game victory as the Reds defeated Atlanta 6-2 Wednesday night.

Behind 2-1, the Reds scored three runs in the sixth on only one hit. A sacrifice fly by Pappas scored Art Shamsky with the tying run. Shamsky had walked and advanced to third on a single by Leo Cardenas and a sacrifice by John Edwards.

Tommy Helms then walked with two out. Woodward committed his first error of the inning on Pete Rose's grounder, permitting Cardenas to score. Vada Pinson was walked intentionally to load the bases. But Woodward then fumbled Gordy Coleman's grounder, allowing Helms to score.

Pappas scattered five hits in bringing his record to 4-2. Tony Cloninger was the loser and is now 3-5.

BOSTON (AP) — Jimmie Hall lashed a two-run homer off Dick Radatz in the 10th inning, giving Minnesota a 7-5 victory over Boston Wednesday night that snapped the Twins' five-game losing streak and ended the Red Sox' winning string at six.

Hall hit his third homer of the season into the left field screen with one out in the 10th and Harmon Killebrew, who had walked, on base.

The Red Sox had tied the score 5-5 on Carl Yastrzemski's two-run double with two out in the ninth.

Athletics Rally To Tip Senators In 3-1 Victory

WASHINGTON (AP) — Ed Charles' first home run of the season touched off a three-run rally in the sixth inning, giving the Kansas City Athletics a 3-1 victory over Washington Wednesday night.

Charles led off the sixth with his homer off ex-Kansas City pitcher Diego Segui.

Joe Nossek followed with a single and Fred Talbot was safe when catcher Paul Casanova threw his sacrifice bunt into right field. Nossek scored on Wayne Causey's sacrifice fly and Talbot scored on Ken Harrelson's double.

BACK TO WORK—Senate Republican leader Everett M. Dirksen surprised his congressional colleagues Tuesday by returning to his office on crutches only two weeks after having surgery on a broken thigh. He said he felt fine despite the loss of five pounds. (UPI Telephoto)

Abductor Killed In Gun Fight

BRISTOL, Conn. (AP) — A volley of police shots killed an apparently deranged man Wednesday after he abducted a little boy and held him captive in the woods for almost three hours.

One policeman was wounded by a shotgun blast as officers closed in on Albert Bunn Jr., 33, a water company employee.

Only minutes before he was killed, Bunn surrendered the youngster, Michael Albee, 6, in exchange for a quart of water. The boy was unharmed.

Motive Unknown

There was no known motive for the abduction. Michael's parents said they had never heard of Bunn, and police said there was no relationship between Bunn and the Albee family.

Michael was standing on a corner with other children, waiting for a school bus in nearby Terryville, when he was snatched up by Bunn and carried away in a pickup truck.

Two men driving by pursued the truck for nearly 10 miles. Just as Bunn was turning into the dirt road leading to his home, one of the men leaped out and told a woman school bus driver to summon police.

Authorities quickly converged on the wooded area.

Using a powered megaphone, they urged Bunn to give himself up or release the boy.

He refused several times to surrender.

Michael shouted to the posse, "I can't come out. I'll be shot."

"You bring me a quart of water, and I'll give you the boy," Bunn finally said.

An intermediary brought Bunn the water and returned with the boy.

Within a few moments, a police officer shouted, "All right, close in!"

Several shots rang out and Bunn was dead.

MAN PLEADS GUILTY TO EMBEZZLEMENT

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (AP) — Robert J. Kerr of Bloomington pleaded guilty in U.S. District Court Wednesday to a charge of embezzling $1,182 from the McLean County Bank of Bloomington.

Kerr, 39, was charged in a criminal information with embezzling the money Oct. 22 while he was an assistant vice president and installment loan officer. Kerr's motion for probation was taken under advisement.

The federal grand jury returned an indictment against David Allen Price, 22, of Hope, dale, charging willful failure to report for civilian employment in lieu of serving in the armed forces. U.S. Atty. Richard Eagleton said Price is a conscientious objector. His arraignment was set for June 6 in Peoria.

Kenneth D. Staggs, 23, of Alton, was indicted for failure to report for military induction and a warrant was issued for his arrest.

Explorer Satellite Too High

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — A new Explorer satellite blazed into the wrong orbit Wednesday and the first version of a Saturn 5 moon rocket rolled to the launch pad as the space agency marked the fifth anniversary of the day President John F. Kennedy committed this nation to race Russia to the moon.

Five years after the lunar goal was set in 1961, America's man-to-the-moon program is "only schedule," declared Dr. George E. Mueller, NASA associate administrator for manned space flight.

Speaking at ceremonies marking Wednesday's event, Mueller said, "We are well on our way to keeping that commitment made five years ago today. The Apollo program is on schedule. We've been meeting milestones after milestone toward our goal of a manned lunar landing in this decade."

Minutes after he spoke, a towering 365-foot-tall Saturn 5 moon rocket — standing upright on the back of a huge turtle-like crawler transporter — lumbered out a yawning 456-foot-tall door of the cavernous Saturn Vehicle Assembly Building and began a slow three-mile journey to the launch pad.

Explorer 32, America's newest orbiting scientific laboratory, rocketed into space at 10 a.m. (EDT) to begin mapping untamed regions around the earth where communications to future spaceships will have to penetrate.

The 423-pound satellite, looking much like a shiny beach ball, rode a 90-foot-tall Delta rocket into too high of an orbit, however.

Project officials said the rocket — which was aiming for an egg-shaped orbit ranging from 170 to 750 miles above the earth — did not get an engine cutoff signal at the right time and burnt too long, shoving the $1.5-million Explorer 32 into an orbit about 900 miles too high.

Officials were trying to determine how much of a problem this might cause with the experiment.

Explorer 32 was built to study short-term disturbances in the upper atmosphere caused by solar storms. It is also to send back information on the concentration and distribution of charged chemical elements in its orbital path.

Urges Immediate Action On Civil Rights Measure

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Emanuel Celler, D-N.Y., disapproved Wednesday with Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois that the administration's civil rights bill will be shelved by Congress this year.

"It is definitely not 'on the hook'," as Dirksen claims, Celler told newsmen after the House Judiciary Committee which he heads ended its hearings on the measure.

Dirksen told a news conference Tuesday that opposition to the bill's ban on discrimination in housing would force the measure over until next year for further study of the constitutionality of the provision.

But Celler said a judiciary subcommittee would start working on the bill Thursday and the full committee would report it to the House floor by the end of June with the open housing provision.

"And once the House has acted," he said, "I don't see how the Senate can afford not to take it up, particularly in an election year."

Psychologist Compares Viet Crisis, Holy Wars

WASHINGTON (AP) — Two academic psychologists tried to explain to the Senate Foreign Relations Committee Wednesday why men — and ultimately nations — act the way they do.

Conceding it was a "rather unusual kind of hearing," chairman J. W. Fulbright, D-Ark., led them through a highly philosophical discussion. But the talk was firmly based on American foreign policy in Viet Nam, with which Fulbright disagrees.

"Do you really think a human being is a rational being?" Fulbright asked at one point.

"That's hard to answer in a hurry," said Dr. Jerome Frank, professor of psychiatry at Johns Hopkins University.

"We are rational only by fits and starts. I think we operate under a great deal of fear and emotional tension, which interferes with clear thinking. We have a right to be afraid of nuclear weapons."

Fulbright commented: "In Viet Nam, in order to give an election to a people that never had an election we are willing to kill thousands of them. This seems to me irrational."

The senator said he is disturbed that "we are so blind to some of our own acts. It is so easy to forget the invasion of Mexico on two occasions, or the Dominican Republic." He added that "if any good comes out of these hearings, it's that they will make Americans try to understand themselves."

Both scholars several times disclaimed any expertise in foreign affairs.

Dr. Charles Osgood, director of the Institute of Communications Research at the University of Illinois, said, "I'm out of my depth. I feel I'm very liable to make a damn fool of myself."

This was in response to a series of questions by Sen. Clifford P. Case, R-N.J., as to what Frank's psychological insight suggested about various conflicts of nations, such as Rhodesia, Israel and Egypt or the Soviet Union and China.

At one point, Frank told the senators the Vietnamese war is similar "to the holy wars of former times." He said "people who are fighting for their ideals seldom if ever can be forced into surrender by punishment."

Osgood analyzed the psychological factors involved in escalation.

"In any conflict situation," he said, "it is easier to believe an opponent's aggressive statements (such as 'We will bury you') than his conciliatory statements. Threats are consistent with what one expects from an enemy."

Osgood compared it to a teenage game of "chicken" in which cars are driven at each other head on and the first driver who steers off the collision course is the loser.

1,100 Objects In Orbit Still Being Tracked

MOORESTOWN, N.J. (AP) — Sputnik I started the whole thing with its history-making flight in orbit in 1957.

It disintegrated in 1958 but several hundred successors, or fragments of them, are orbiting the earth.

And a team of engineers at the North American Air Defense Command Space Track Center in Moorestown keeps an eye on every one of them.

"We have to just make sure no one sneaks something up there we don't know about," said Capt. Charles Oglesby, a spokesman for NORAD.

Oglesby said the space track center is keeping tabs on 1,100 items in orbit, ranging from functioning "payloads" such as a "Tos weather satellite" to pieces of "debris" — a catch-all term that includes burned out rockets and fragments.

Ninety-five per cent of the items in orbit are from the United States, Oglesby said. Of the "payloads," the United States has 167, Russia, 43, Great Britain and Canada, two each and France, three.

The $28 million Moorestown center is one of three full-time space track centers operated by NORAD. The others are in Turkey and Alaska.

NORAD, manned by personnel from the U.S. Army, Navy and Air Force and the Royal Canadian Air Force, is part of the continental defense system set up by the U.S. Air Force.

Most of the actual work of space tracking at Moorestown has been allocated to the "big eye" — a 100-ton disc-shaped radar antenna.

The Air Defense Command headquarters at Colorado Springs, Colo., decides which satellites it wants tracked, then messages information to the space track center to help identify and find the satellite. This data is fed into a computer, which quickly produces a schedule indicating when and where the satellite will come into range.

The radar's range is a military secret but the center's commanding officer, Lt. Col. Melvin Kurtz, says it "could spot a watermelon flying over Miami, providing it's high enough."

DRIVER TICKETED AFTER ACCIDENT

State police ticketed a Jacksonville man for failure to yield the right of way, following a two-car accident, shortly before 2:45 p.m. Tuesday, on Route 67, one mile north of the city.

Cited was Glen C. Hickie of 218 Sandusky, driver of a north-bound car.

Troopers said Hickie was attempting a left turn when he pulled in front of a car operated by Andrew M. Sorrell of Virginia.

Neither driver was injured and both autos were driven from the scene.

Ponder Man's Future If Space Beings Met

ANAHEIM, Calif. (AP) — Just suppose as a political scientist supposed Wednesday, that space travel leads to meeting intelligent beings from another planet.

Would earthlings unite or wage interstellar war? Would we have to kowtow to a more advanced civilization, or dominate an "inferior" one? Might meeting with an advanced society push man further toward "creating a culture of frantic fun?"

The speculations come from Harold D. Lasswell, professor of law and political science at Yale University, in a paper presented to the American Astronomical Society.

Man might abandon war through meeting a civilization more advanced scientifically and technologically than ours, Lasswell said.

In that case, also, he said, "it is conceivable that man's civilization will intensify the predisposition already visible toward creating a culture of frantic fun, whose chief thrust will be toward intense participation in the immediate — in music and the dance, in affection and drama, in gambling and in sport."

"Besides frantic fun there may be a strand of emphasis on serene repose, on meditation and withdrawal from immediate participation with others," he added.

Witness Claims Union Pacific Merger Necessary

CHICAGO (AP) — A witness for the Union Pacific Railroad testified Wednesday that merger with the Rock Island Lines would enable the Union Pacific to recover a substantial portion of traffic lost to motor carriers.

On the witness stand for the fifth day at an Interstate Commerce Commission hearing into the merger, William W. Weyer, a transportation consultant, said a Union Pacific-Rock Island union would enable the new company to compete more effectively with other rail lines and over-the-road truck transportation.

Weyer, whose firm, Weyer, Dick and Co., of Upper Montclair, N.J., conducted a three-year study of the planned consolidation, was cross-examined by Leon Leighton, counsel for the Missouri Pacific Railroad, one of a dozen western lines opposing the proposed merger.

Weyer testified the merger study showed Union Pacific was not getting its "fair share" of freight traffic originating in Denver because of its inability to provide single line service to eastern terminals.

At present the Union Pacific must interchange traffic at Omaha-Council Bluffs with 13 railroads serving eastern areas of the nation.

The Union Pacific contends a merger with the financially troubled Rock Island would enable it to provide the single line service it says it needs to meet increasing competition from other carriers.

Weyer said the merger would put the Union Pacific in a better position to provide more dependable service to shippers than now is possible because of the present need for interchanging traffic with other rail lines.

Eight Injured In Frankfort Plant Explosion

FRANKFORT, Ill. (AP) — An estimated $175,000 damage was caused Wednesday by explosions and fire at the S & S Sinter Corp. plant south of Frankfort.

Eight employees were injured, Duane Brownell, 26, of Wilmington, the most seriously. He suffered severe burns on his leg, hands and back.

The explosions occurred as employees were reporting for work. Approximately 20 persons were either in the plant or the nearby parking area when the fire started.

Ten cars in the parking lot were damaged by debris scattered by the explosions.

One factory employee said the first explosion occurred near a compressor used to heat and roll plastic.

Lynn Kohlhaugen, Frankfort fire chief, said his men arrived at the plant within minutes of the initial explosion.

Kohlhaugen, who estimated the damage, added, "Two of the buildings already were leveled and in flames. We didn't have a chance to get inside."

PIPELINE TO SERVE SOUTHERN ILLINOIS

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — Shell Pipe Line Corp. officials said Wednesday they are developing plans for a $100 million crude oil pipeline from near New Orleans to Southern Illinois.

They said about 10 companies have indicated they will take part in the project that will have an initial capacity of 350,000 to 400,000 barrels a day. Preliminary design calls for pipe with a diameter of at least 36 inches. Eventual capacity could exceed 1 million barrels of crude daily.

The project is to be in operation under current scheduling by mid-1968.

There was indication that preliminary planning calls for the line to begin in the New Orleans area and extend to Southern Illinois at a point between Wood River and Patoka.

Say Short Circuit Sent Gemini 9 Target Into Sea

SPACE CENTER, Houston, Tex. (AP) — A short circuit, the second to interrupt the U.S. space program in two months, forced a powerful Atlas rocket to plunge Gemini's 9's rendezvous target into the sea May 17, the space agency said Wednesday.

"It essentially was a quality problem... unique in the Atlas," said Charles A. Mathews, Gemini program manager, of the costly malfunction in the space exploration.

Investigators labeled the trouble as "random" rather than a design weakness and said it would not force any further delay in Gemini 9, a bold three-day space walk, rendezvous and link-up flight set for next Tuesday.

The Atlas booster, with the Agena target vehicle atop it, failed to achieve orbit when one of its engines swiveled wildly seconds after blastoff from Cape Kennedy. Both the Atlas and Agena crashed into the Atlantic Ocean, off the Florida coast.

As a result, officials delayed the flight of Air Force Lt. Col. Thomas P. Stafford and Navy Lt. Cmdr. Eugene A. Cernan for two weeks to erect another Atlas for launch with a substitute target vehicle, similar but smaller and less sophisticated than the Agena.

The space agency said in a statement that technicians determined from the sequence of events that only a short in the electrical command circuit could have caused the engine to swivel as it did.

RUSS BUILDS TV TOWER

MOSCOW (AP) — The television tower going up here will become the tallest in Europe; the Soviet news agency Tass reported. When complete next year the Moscow tower and superstructure will be 1,722 feet tall compared with the 1,656 of the Eiffel Tower and antenna in Paris.

Herrick, Dunham Headline Final Figures At IC

Illinois College's baseball nine finished the season with an unimpressive 6-11 record last week, but final statistics show the Blueboys to have at least five batters who ended up with notable averages.

Catcher Larry Herrick, shortstop Phil Snowden and second baseman-outfielder Ken Stauffer gave the Blueboys of coach Joe Brooks a trio of better than .300 hitters.

Herrick was the leading slacker and will receive the Joe Brooks batting trophy. Herrick pounded out 15 hits in 45 official appearances, including three home runs and eight runs batted in for a final average of .333.

Rowland, a sophomore like Herrick, was 17-33 for a .321 average, and drove in 29 runs, stealing seven bases. Stauffer went 11-35 for a .314 rate. Stauffer is a sophomore from Perry.

Sophomore center fielder Tom Rowland hit the ball at a respectable .283 rate on 15-53, and tied with Snowden with 11 RBI. The speedy Rowland led the team with 11 stolen bases. Third baseman clubbed the ball at a .279 pace, on 13-43, and outfielder Bill Blessman averaged .220 on 11-50, the only other regular to hit over .200.

Rowland and Snowden led the team in slugging percentages, .585 and .509, respectively.

Other players with over 20 times at bat and their averages were Bud Lawrence .194, Jim Downer .139, Bob Rittenhouse .132 and Ted Svanda .100.

Two underclassmen were also the Blueboys' top moundmen. Freshman Denny Dunham compiled a 1-2 record, but posted an impressive 1.46 earned run average. Dunham gave up only four earned runs in 24.66 innings pitched, all on home runs. Sophomore Tom Gee was 2-3, with an ERA of 1.97. Other pitchers of record were Wayne Sildorff 1-2, Pete Gallatin 1-1 and Gordon Elmore 0-3.

EX PRO GOLFER DIES

EAST ORANGE, N.J. (AP) — James M. (Long Jim) Barnes, one of the top professional golfers 40 to 50 years ago, was found dead Wednesday in his apartment. He was 79.

His body was discovered in a chair by the doorman of the building who went to check when a neighbor noticed Barnes' car on the street all day Tuesday and overnight.

A native of Cornwall, England, Barnes won the U.S. Open in 1921, the National PGA in 1916 and 1919 and the British Open in 1925. He was the PGA runner-up twice, tied for second in the British Open in 1922 and won the Western Open three times.

Cause of death was not immediately determined.

A letter from Brooklyn reads in part: "I must be the unluckiest player in the world. I made a trap pass over the opening no-trump and was rewarded by getting a chance to double three no-trump at my next turn. I opened my king of spades and waited to cash in. Instead, my opponent ducked two spade leads, won the third, led a heart and finessed dummy's jack. Next came five club leads and I had to throw away a spade on the last one. Then South knocked out my ace of diamonds. I took one more spade but that wasn't enough to set the contract."

We do agree that our correspondent was unlucky. It took the combination of a five-card club suit, the ace of hearts in back of his king and excellent play by South to bring home the doubled game but we don't sympathize too much with him.

He just made a bad double. A lot of people will think that if a man doesn't double with that West hand he should never double, but this is not so. West violated one of the most important principles of bidding. That is, never double when you jeopardize the setting trick.

If West had not doubled the chances are that South would not have tried the heart finesse but would simply have knocked out the ace of diamonds after winning the third spade and hoped that spades would be 4-4 or that East would hold the ace.

Strange enough West would have had a very good double without the king of hearts and would have picked up a 300-point penalty.
